W-WHAT IS THIS? WHAT ARE YOU DOING?!

I AM NOT YOUR PLAYTHING, CREATURE, RELEASE ME AT ONCE, BEFORE I-

SHH, DON'T FRET SO SWEETLY, MY CAPTIVE LITTLE MAGE.

I'M SIMPLY GOING TO EXPLORE EVERY INCH OF THIS DELECTABLE CANVAS YOU'VE PRESENTED TO ME. TO TEASE AND TORMENT UNTIL YOU'RE WRITHING AND BEGGING FOR MY TOUCH...

NOW, AS MY LITTLE GIGGLING TOY, LET YOURSELF BE CARRIED AWAY BY ALL THESE SENSATIONS ALONG THE BODY AND YOU WILL BE REWARDED BY THE TWO HEALING TINTS I PROMISED YOU. YOU WILL SEE HOW WELL REWARDED THEY WILL FEEL AFTER THIS TEST.

BEFORE YOU WHAT, LITTLE MAGE? CAST A SPELL? I THINK WE BOTH KNOW YOU'RE POWERLESS HERE, BOUND SO PRETTILY FOR MY PLEASURE...

N-NO, I... AH! PLEASE, I CAN'T... IT'S TOO MUCH...

YOUR BODY KNOWS WHAT IT WANTS, EVEN IF YOU WON'T ADMIT IT. SHALL I TASTE YOUR SWEET NECTAR, LITTLE MAGE? LAP AT YOUR DRIPPING PETALS UNTIL YOU SCREAM MY NAME?

AHAH- AHA! OH GODS, STOP! I CAN'T TAKE IT ANYMORE! NOHO!

YOU FIEND! MONSTER! AHAHA! UNHAND ME THIS INSTANT BEFORE I- HAHAHA! -BEFORE I REDUCE YOU TO ASHES!

WHAT TRICKERY IS THIS? CHOOSE YOUR NEXT WORDS CAREFULLY, LEST I DECIDE TO PUNISH YOU PROPERLY FOR YOUR INSOLENCE. AND TRUST ME, THE TICKLING WOULD SEEM A MERCY COMPARED TO WHAT I'M CAPABLE OF.

KimmoTK
PATREON.COM/KTKART

VERY WELL, KNISMORION. I ACCEPTED YOUR CHALLENGE, BUT I MUST KNOW... IT WAS NECESSARY THIS 'PRIVATE TRIAL' ENTAIL? AND WHY THE NEED FOR NUDICY?

I... I ACCEPT, BUT I HAVE A CONDITION. THIS TRIAL REMAINS STRICTLY BETWEEN US. MY COMPANIONS MUST NEVER KNOW OF IT.

AH, A WISE QUESTION! THE TRIAL IS... UNIQUE. A TEST OF SENSORY ENDURANCE, IF YOU WILL.

THE TRIAL INVOLVES A GRADUAL ESCALATION OF SENSATION, PUSHING YOUR BODY AND MIND TO THEIR UTMOST LIMITS. IT BEGINS WITH THE GENTLEST OF TOUCHES, MERE WHISPERS AGAINST YOUR SKIN, BUILDING SLOWLY INTO WAVES OF INTENSE, ALMOST UNBEARABLE STIMULATION.

AS THE TEST PROGRESSES, I MAY EMPLOY VARIOUS TECHNIQUES TO HEIGHTEN YOUR SENSITIVITY AND RESTRICT YOUR MOVEMENT. BUT FEAR NOT TRUE PAIN WILL NOT BE INFLICTED. THIS IS A JOURNEY OF SELF-DISCOVERY, A CHANCE TO EXPLORE THE DEPTHS OF YOUR OWN RESILIENCE.

OF COURSE, DEAR LUNE. YOUR WISHES WILL BE RESPECTED AND HONORED THROUGHOUT THE TRIAL, AND REMEMBER, THERE'S NO NEED TO FIGHT THESE FEELINGS. EMBRACE THEM, LET THEM FLOW THROUGH YOU.

WHAT... WHAT HAPPENS NOW?

NOW, MY CURIOUS LITTLE MAGE, WE EXPLORE THE DEPTHS OF PLEASURE AND SENSATION TOGETHER, WE PUSH BEYOND YOUR LIMITS, BEYOND ANYTHING YOU'VE EVER EXPERIENCED, UNTIL YOU'RE DROWNING IN ECSTASY AND YOUR VERY SOUL SINGS WITH RAPTURE.

BY THE MADDENING, CEASELESS SENSATION THAT REFUSES TO LET US GO.

Since my defeat, Master parades me in public like a prized catch...

I've been accustomed to him humiliating me, so much so that it arouses me~

My Mistress' Necklace foretold that my master would obtain a harem of the many female duelists he would encounter

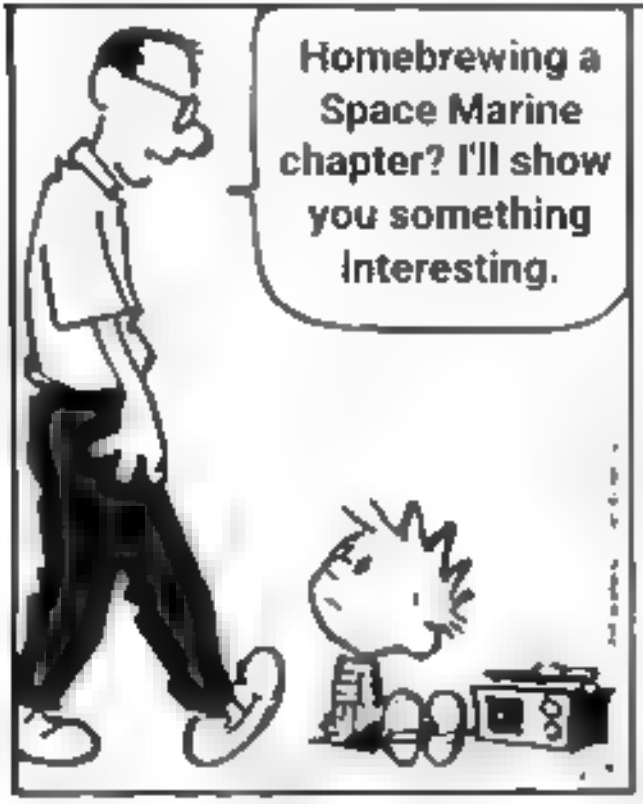
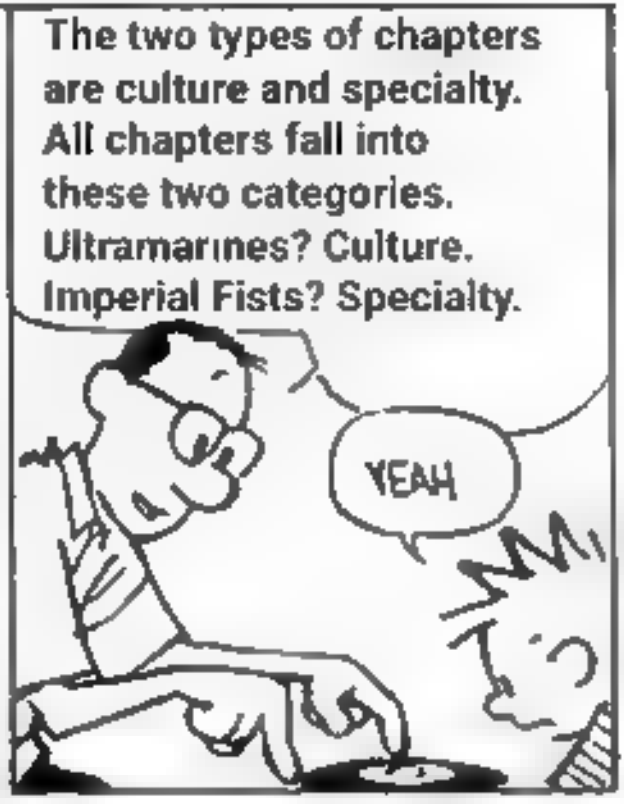
Ferrus bore his brother no animosity for coining that particular sobriquet. It fit. Like a glove of liquid steel. Where Fulgrim was contemplative and beatific, he was belligerent and headstrong. Perturabo, whom many that had not been forced to endure his company would have considered a more natural brother, had once asked what he and Fulgrim had to talk about. That was the first and last time that the Iron Warrior had made Ferrus Manus laugh. But he had not given an answer. Ferrus knew too that he had a reputation for being enigmatic, but there was no aspect of his character that had not been moulded perfectly to his nature. He was difficult to like, and he liked his brothers little enough.





Blood Angels? Culture.
Salamanders? Specialty.

Despite focusing on cybernetics, Iron Hands are culture.

LAUNCHED IN 1977 → Still transmitting in 2026

NOW IN INTERSTELLAR SPACE

It is over 15 billion miles from Earth, operating between the stars.

GET UP, LEMME SHOW YOU HOW TO MOVE YOUR HIPS PROPERLY

Within them, half-seen, churn mechanisms of bladed cogs said to be the manifestation of Perturabo's endless and obsessive analysis of every failure, insult and disappointment he has suffered. Mortals who have endured the Lord of Iron's presence speak in hushed whispers of eyes like glowing coals that weighed their worth and found them miserably wanting, and of a looming presence like a barely glimpsed avalanche about to crash down on them in wrath. The Daemon Primarch's voice is said to be the pounding thunder of artillery fire and the pounding of forge hammers. His breath is the crackle of bone beneath tank tracks and the roar of flamers pouring fire through breached fortress walls.

It is the nature of the Empyrean to draw forth and give physical shape to the obsessions of sentient beings. Perturabo has languished in its tides for many mortal lifespans and the very essence of his daemonic form is a grotesque blending of the Emperor's genetic alchemy with the raw stuff of Chaos. As such, he has come to physically embody all-consuming rancour and resentment. So withering is Perturabo's contempt that lesser lifeforms exposed to his corporeal manifestation wilt as though before the open heart of an atomic reactor. Wherever the Lord of Iron prowls, clouds of scalding steam and bitter smoke billow into being.

Style 1. The "new" style

- Greater shading, as if the light were coming from the side or from behind the character.
- A type of shading widely used by AI (the main reason why I think I was accused of using it).
- I do it purely with soft brushes, such as watercolor, light pencil, and A LOT of blurring.
- Much more detail, especially in the shadows, such as airbrush and blur effects.
- Advantages: The final artwork looks much more "professional" in my opinion, and is much more eye-catching.
- Disadvantages: Apparently, to some people, it looks like AI.

BRUSHES USED IN THIS STYLE:

Style 2. The "previous" style

- Simple shading, as if the light were always coming from the front/above.
- Since there is less shading, and so as not to "mess up" the drawing, I often refrain from adding more details, something I'm not afraid to do in the new style, where I go crazy adding details.
- I use slightly more rustic brushes and don't blend as much, using, among others, the generic G-pen and a harder version of the brush I use for line art.
- Advantages: It's a style I've been using for at least a year or two. I know it quite well.
- Disadvantage: I feel like my drawings look flat, with nothing interesting, like "just another drawing." Even though it's pretty, I feel like it doesn't really catch the eye too much.

IMPORTANT NOTE:
For this style, I usually use two techniques. To clarify, one thing is the technique and another is the style. Technique 1: Everything on one layer; I place the base colors, shadows, and highlights on the same layer, choosing the colors manually. Technique 2: Use of layers; I use a layer in "multiply" mode for the shadows, and a layer above in "normal" mode for the rendering and highlights, as well as a layer above the base layer, where I place blushes and some soft shadows.

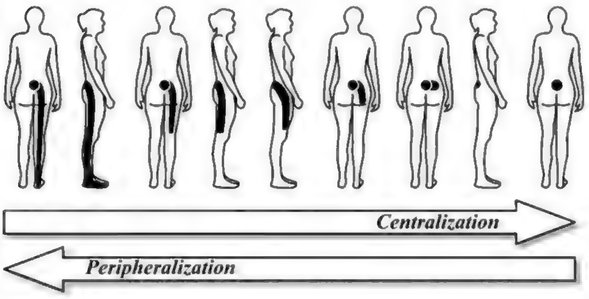
1. Centralisation of sciatic pain

Sciatica starts in the hip region and radiates towards the lower legs as it gets worse. So the number one sign to look for in sciatica improvement is pain that starts to recede back towards the hip. This is known as centralisation.



Even if the pain is still relatively intense, if it starts to affect the lower leg less than it did previously, this is a great sign your sciatica is improving [3]. The more you feel pain around your spine and hips rather than your legs, the greater the indication that your sciatica is getting better.

Centralisation can occur even if no action is taken to repair your herniated disc. So you don't always need surgery, steroid injections, or other invasive treatments to eliminate sciatica pain. However, if your pain is severe or chronic, these treatments can speed up recovery.

2. Pain is less intense and frequent

Centralisation is important, but the ultimate goal is to be pain-free. So any reduction in pain frequency or intensity is a good sign. You may find it hurts less when you sneeze or cough, or that you experience tingling and pins and needles instead of shooting pains in your leg or hip.

However, a lack of pain reduction isn't necessarily a sign that your sciatica is getting worse. You may still feel a similar level of pain in your hip, but if pain is centralising this is still an indication your sciatica is getting better.

I'm probably going to just keep reminding you all that my local game store has really good presale prices.

Commander deck set (all 5) for $214 and play booster display for $119 when you plug in STEELCITYMTG. They ship anywhere in the country too.

Check 'em out.💜

I gave it some thought.....this is probably the best dragon of the 5.
Easy to get online, aristocratic are great at token generation and Casualty 1 is soooo easy to abuse.

4 mana dragon is child's play.

Just a sample of spells you can Casualty 1 copy. (edited)

ease centralization sciatica

-11

Centralizing sciatic pain—moving it from the leg/buttock toward the lower back—indicates nerve decompression and healing. This is achieved by reducing pressure on the spinal nerve, often using exercises like prone press-ups (sphinx pose), standing backbends, and avoiding forward flexion. St. Louis Sports C +3

Key Techniques for Centralization:

- Prone Press-Ups (Sphinx/Cobra): Lie on your stomach and gently prop yourself up on your elbows, or push up with your hands, keeping the pelvis on the floor.
- Standing Back Extension: Place hands on your hips and gently lean backward to encourage the disc to move away from the nerve.
- Avoid Long Sitting: Avoid sitting for extended periods to prevent pressure on the nerve.
- Corrective Movement: If one movement increases pain (peripheralization), try the opposite movement, as often the key to relief involves reversing the posture that caused the compression. YouTube +5

Exercises to Consider;

- Prone Extension: Lie on your stomach for 1-2 minutes, allowing the back to relax.
- Standing Backbend: Support your lower back with your hands while gently leaning back to create space in the spinal discs. YouTube +4

Disclaimer: If pain persists or worsens, consult a physical therapist for a personalized assessment. The Motive Physical

Bob & Brad have always believed that mindset matters just as much as movement. Stay positive, keep moving, and your body (and mind) will thank you.

💬 What keeps YOU motivated on tough days?

We've always believed—your mindset plays a huge role in how you feel, move, and recover.

Focus on what you can do... and build from there. 💪

Everyone Should Meet Them: WOMEN OF SPACE

These four women represent different generations of space science, from paper calculations to digital systems and the exploration of other planets.

Katherine Johnson: A key mathematician at NASA, she calculated orbital trajectories for historic missions. At a time when computers were still limited, her hand calculations were so reliable that astronauts asked to check the results before launch.

Margaret Hamilton: She led the development of software for the Apollo program. Their work allowed the onboard computer to prioritize tasks during the Apollo 11 lunar landing, avoiding potential failure. It also helped lay the foundations for modern software development.

Diana Trujillo: A Colombian aerospace engineer who participated in the Perseverance rover mission to Mars, where she led the team responsible for the vehicle's robotic arms, a critical system for collecting and analyzing high-precision Martian rock samples. She also led the first Spanish-language broadcast of the Mars landing.

Christina Koch: The NASA astronaut holds the record for the longest continuous stay in space by a woman, at 328 days. She participated in the first all-female spacewalk. And recently, she became the woman who has been farthest from Earth.

I mean one light second is 186,000 miles. One light year is 5 and half trillion miles. So imagine how far 93 billion light years is. 93 billion times 5.5 trillion. Wow that's big

The Humbling

Endt Thrinn, the genius planetary governor of Inviolus, completes his dynasty's planet-girdling fortress network. In his cups, he is much given to boast that his home planet is unassailable. Agents of the Alpha Legion relay this claim to their Iron Warriors brothers, and before long Lord Mandrakk has made warp translation in-system at the head of a large fleet. Instead of attacking Inviolus directly, he invades the nearby agri world of Dalathro's Rest.

The bread basket of the Inviolus system, Dalathro's Rest is well defended by the Astra Militarum. Mandrakk bombards it from orbit whilst launching boarding actions against every craft bound for Inviolus. Within the year the people of Inviolus are crippled by starvation. Though reinforcement arrives in the form of a company of Mentor Legion Space Marines, Mandrakk has ensured that Inviolus' half-starved defence forces are easy prey for his teleporting annihilation squads. The planet is seized and repurposed as a Chaos base.

Coelophysis pictures and facts

Coelophysis was a carnivore. It lived in the Jurassic period and inhabited Africa and North America. Its fossils have been found in places such as Texas, Yunnan (China) and Matabeleland North (Zimbabwe).

At three feet tall and nine feet long, with a body weight of some 30 pounds, Coelophysis is a dainty dinosaur from the Triassic, before heavyweight forms began to evolve. She had small, but still-useful forelimbs, and the first wishbone known to paleontology. The experts suspect that she was a sharp-eyed, fleet-footed predator of small game with excellent depth perception. There are many good samples from Ghost Ranch in New Mexico – and one distant relative from Zimbabwe in central Africa: Coelophysis rhodesiensis.

Quick facts about Coelophysis:

- Existed from Upper Triassic Epoch to 182.7 million years ago
- Lived in a terrestrial habitat
- Was a carnivore
- Reproduced by laying eggs
- Had a body mass of approximately 15.3 kg

Carnotaurus pictures and facts

Carnotaurus was a carnivore. It lived in the Cretaceous period and inhabited South America. Its fossils have been found in places such as Argentina.

Carnotaurus was a carnivorous theropod that dwelled in what would become South America during the late Cretaceous period. Its name means “meat-eating bull”, and it resembles a Tyrannosaur with horns.

Scientists have been fortunate to have recovered a remarkably well-preserved skeleton of a Carnotaurus, which they have used to glean many insights not only into that genus but also many other theropods. Carnotaurus has the smallest forelimbs of all theropods, smaller even than those of the notoriously small-armed Tyrannorsaurus Rex. It is thought that the arms may have been entirely vestigial, serving no practical function, unlike the T. Rex’s arms, which are now suspected to have been functional.

In art, the Carnotaurus is shown with wide variety of skin colors and patterns, but can be recognized easily by the horns protruding from above its eyes, and its noticeably stubby forelimbs.

Ankylosaurus pictures and facts

Ankylosaurus was a herbivore. It lived in the Late Cretaceous period and inhabited North America. Its fossils have been found in places such as Montana, Colorado and Alberta (Canada).

The Ankylosaurus is a squat, quadruped dinosaur remarkable for its armor plating and club-like tail. An hebivore, it was active during the late Cretaceous period and is the most well-known example of its family, Ankylosauridae.

As with the other more popular dinosaurs, the depiction of the Ankylosaurus in art has changed considerably over the years as more and more new information has come to light. In early illustrations, the gait of the Ankylosaurus was more squat, and it carried its tail low to the ground; it is now known that it walked with its hind legs held straighter, and its tail high in the air. Newer illustrations will sometimes incorporate these changes in understanding.

Artistic depictions of the Ankylosaurus will often exaggerate the elements of its armored plates, usually adding spikes and other features that more accurately reflect other members of the Ankylosauridae family.

Iguanodon pictures and facts

Iguanodon was a herbivore. It lived in the Cretaceous period and inhabited Europe. Its fossils have been found in places such as Arad (Romania), Valencian Community (Spain) and Grand Est (France).

This English dinosaur was named in 1824, from a handful of teeth which seemed to have come from a giant iguana. Semi-complete specimens were discovered later, and a controversy ensued in which creationist figures intervened in a dispute with the original discoverer, geologist Gideon Mantell.

But less controversial samples were to come. In the year 1878, Belgian coal miners dug into a trove of at least 38 Iguanodon fossils, 1000 feet underground. Investigation of all these fossils led to much deeper information about the Cretaceous species, which lumbered across the Earth some 125 million years ago. The Iguanodon was a bird-footed plant eater, with a mass of at least three tons, measuring 33 feet from its nose to the end of a long horizontal tail. Its estimated top speed was about 15 mph.

"If Perturabo felt unappreciated, why didn't he tell anyone he felt that way?"
Ferrus Manus when Perturabo tried to vent his fears of always seeing the eye of Terror:

Perty tried to connect with him TWICE btw 🥲🥲🥲

Ferrus bore his brother no animosity for coining that particular sobriquet. It fit. Like a glove of liquid steel. Where Fulgrim was contemplative and beatific, he was belligerent and headstrong. Perturabo, whom many that had not been forced to endure his company would have considered a more natural brother, had once asked what he and Fulgrim had to talk about. That was the first and last time that the Iron Warrior had made Ferrus Manus laugh. But he had not given an answer. Ferrus knew too that he had a reputation for being enigmatic, but there was no aspect of his character that had not been moulded perfectly to his nature. He was difficult to like, and he liked his brothers little enough.

This is really what happened by the way.

> He'd once asked Ferrus whether his silver eyes allowed similar insight, but his brother had just shaken his head and given him a look of faint scorn, as though he had just admitted to some secret weakness or vice. He had never mentioned it again.

Like genuinely the way Ferrus treated Perturabo with nothing but insults and jabs, and Perturabo STILL respected the Iron Hands, the slander over perturabo I'll never understand

The problem was ferrus and perturabo were too similar.
But medusa taught ferrus that vulnerability was a weakness, while perturabo felt vulnerable learning of his brothers

Brother, we've been in this contraption for hours
Very well
I was told by Malcador there is an arena more ancient than any other place on Terra. In ancient times the mightiest of warriors would fight and die there.
It sounded like a fun place to visit. We should be arriving soon

That's a long month

Cam Schlittler made a winning MLB debut for the New York Yankees on July 9, 2025, defeating the Seattle Mariners 9-6 at Yankee Stadium. The right-hander pitched 5.1 innings, allowing three earned runs and striking out seven, with his fastball hitting up to 100 mph. MLB.com +3
